Subject: GE Power Conversion - Supplier Life Cycle Management Process

A message from
GE Power Conversion Sourcing

Dear Partner,

As you know, managing the life cycle of a product is critical for GE Power Conversion.

To ensure that we have a consistent and transparent approach, it is essential to have a management process which identifies and tracks all the life cycle changes (goods and replacement parts), and we need YOUR Company to be part of this process.

Please share any life cycle changes notification with our Center of Excellence (CoE) using lifecycle.notifications@ge.com

We know that our suppliers may send such notices to many different people across our business today. Hereafter please make sure you send the advanced notices to our Center of Excellence (CoE) as per the above process.

Proactive communications are essential to make this process fruitful, and if you have any question, please contact your local sourcing.

Thanks in advance for your collaboration,

Power Conversion Sourcing
